Fur-Mineral-Analysis Program:

Important Note: We request the right to limit the number of elements tested, if necessary due to sample limitations.

Proper Sampling:

- We need one half gram of hair or fur, which is approximately 1-2 filled soup spoons.
- Fur/hair samples do not have to be washed prior to sample cutting or sample submission. A special process is used in our laboratory to free the hair/fur sample of all external contaminants. During this process, sample weight may be reduced. It is therefore important to provide sufficient sample.
- No special scissors are required. Proper washing will free the sample of external contaminants.
- Do not send mane or tail hair. Our reference ranges are not specific for these types of sample.
- If you do not have our sampling kits, place the fur sample into a plain envelope. Do not use plastic or aluminum foil.
- Fill out this sheet and send with the hair or fur sample to TMI Laboratory.
- No special carrier services are needed. Regular mail or air mail is sufficient.
- Hair is inert and storage does not affect its mineral content.

We thank you for your trust and confidence. For more information, check out website: <http://www.tracemin.com>
